Dear Mr. [redacted]

I am in receipt of your letter regarding the 8 series BMW you have on order with us.

You will probably be aware that we had already requested the last right hand drive production slot for this car, however, at this time this cannot be guaranteed. We are in regular contact with the Sales office at BMW (GB) Ltd to try and ensure, if possible, that your request is met. Unfortunately, none of us have direct control over the production in Germany, and therefore, it seems unlikely that a full guarantee will be available.

Needless to say, however, my team and I will do everything within our power to secure your request. I trust this meets with your approval, and we will keep you informed of the progress.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mr. [redacted]

I have been trying to contact you over the last few days by telephone but have been unsuccessful. I wanted to discuss with you personally the idea that you were considering, that is, of taking delivery of the 840i Sport that we have here from new. The reason I wanted to follow this up personally is I know that you were very concerned about this car being the last car off of the production line for the UK. I also thought that if the figures were viable it would be nice for you to take delivery as the first owner also.

I have had a further opportunity to look closely at the figures and am pleased to say that I am sure I can reduce the 'change over' costs a little bit more to try and ease the transition.

Perhaps you would be kind enough to contact me at your earliest convenience with a view to discussing this further.

Yours sincerely,
